

Newsletter No. 4 (Tuesday, 26th. November 2024)

TMG reports that viewing figures are growing again and that some readers have donated some articles. The site has now passed one thousand unique visitors after three months. TMG has also received some very encouraging e-mail comments including, 'Good morning from a great grandad. .... (TMG) does have a light-hearted feel this is unusual these days.'

Recent Additions to the Website include:

- Art Deco Surbiton Station photos
- Tolworth Show Train Exhibition photos.
- Sixties and Seventies British Rail TV Adverts
- Re-arranged web links index
- Re-vitalised You Tube Channel
- Steam Engines and Locomotives I-Spy book.
- Many more British Pathe railway features
- New humorous tea/coffee mugs

Where is TMG's Roving Reporter venting in December?

An Airbnb booked for the weekend near Staybridge, I will jump on the train to the above exhibition. I went years ago, so now is a good time to return! Plenty of photos promised,

As its on my railway bucket list a couple of real ale pints, an evening visit the famous Stalybridge Station Bar.

Talking about railway pubs, make sure to support the R'Alc Bar on the forecourt of EMR Wellingborough Station

Recently, my btinternet.com e-mail address was hacked. All my contacts were victims of a potential financial phishing scam. Fortunately, nobody was hoodwinked by my so-called pleading for money. In the unlikely event of receiving of any further, please do not respond to pr*****31(btinternet.com)

YouTube Channel

However, my You Tube Channel was cancelled as a phishing risk from my hacker's actions. A local Computer engineer has vetted my laptop and been a huge help to me. I have now set up a new Channel, #Train Mad Grandad. All videos have been restored to the You Tube channel!

You as trainspotters and/or railway modellers have so many tales to tell and there are so many who wish to read or hear them! Here are some headings you might consider, you work will be credited (alas, I can not cross your palms with silver!

- A first model railway
- My first taste of trainspotting
- I volunteered on a Heritage Railway
- My or train themed bucket list
- Exhibiting a layout for the first time!
- A Collection of Photographs

Many Thanks to Cartoonist Simon Bond! NOT!

A TREVOR OF TRAINSPOTTERS

Thankyou!

Season's Greetings!
